DO YOU KNOW ANY MORE GOOD MONEY JOKES

"Lost Funds" Brought to Light At County Seat By Officials At "Convenient" Time

Beginning Tuesday of this week the County Board of Supervisors began to "discover" sums of money which heretofore were unknown, and now, behold, we are to find our county taxes a few mills lower, (maybe).

It seems that some of our daily newspaper contemporaries, published down the county, can't quite make up their minds just which way the county tax levy winds will finally blow—"up or down."

We predict that, AFTER the primary election of next Tuesday, the tentative reduction will "blow up."

With great acclaim two of the county dailies, both published by one corporation, give credit to the present county executive (who was appointed by the County Board of Supervisors) for an alleged "tentative" reduction, in order to save that official from defeat at the hands of the people at the Tuesday primary election.

By these frantic efforts of these two dailies and the members of the County Board of Supervisors (who are supporting their appointive official to a man) our county has again been held up to ridicule, as witnessed by the following from the San Francisco News of August 24:

"San Mateo's Board of Supervisors today was to pass on a proposed 1c cut in the county tax rate submitted last night by County Executive Ernest Rolison.

"The revised rate will be $1.13 per $100 assessed value. Earlier estimates had placed the tax rate at $1.24.

Coming before next Tuesday's elections, his supporters hoped the lowered tax figure would boost Mr. Rolison in his battle to retain his post against Frederick Peterson."

Maybe we will find, as the News suggests, that these "discoveries"

INTERCOASTAL LINERS RETURN TO PACIFIC PORTS

Ending a four months "famine" in intercoastal fast passenger service, the Panama-Pacific's steamer, City of Los Angeles, nosed through the Golden Gate under command of Captain Harold R. McCaw. Mayor Angelo J. Rossi and other civic dignitaries were on hand at the pier to welcome the steamer, which represents resumption of intercoastal shipping. Aboard the vessel were an outstanding list of eighty-five passengers and a heavy cargo of general merchandise. Photo shows the City of Los Angeles, first of a fleet of five sister ships, which will be on the New York-San Francisco run.

AUXILIARY MEET AT SAN MATEO

The Twenty-sixth District of the American Legion Auxiliary met recently in San Mateo. At this meeting Mrs. Mary Hayes of Redwood City was elected president, Mrs. Bessie Wood of Burlingame, first vice president, and Mrs. Helen Madden of San Bruno, second vice president. Other officers to serve will be appointed by Mrs. Hayes before the next meeting to be held in October.

Mrs. L. N. Zant, the retiring president, was presented with a piece of luggage from the district in appreciation of her efforts the past year.

The Eighth District of San Francisco challenged the Twenty-sixth District to a membership race, early in the year. Inasmuch as San Mateo was the winner the Eighth District is entertaining the Twenty-sixth on the evening of August 29 at the installation of the Three hundred and sixty-third Infantry Auxiliary. Mrs. Helen Pilhashy is a member of this auxiliary and is membership chairman in charge of the evening. All members of the district are invited.

Mrs. Beatrice Camgros, drill team chairman, was presented with a gift on behalf of the team.

Commander Lee Williams of the American Legion congratulated the group on the work done the past year and the co-operation he received from the Auxiliary with the shows at the Veterans Facility in Palo Alto.

The incoming presidents of the new units were introduced by the retiring presidents.

Mrs. Zant was elected a delegate to the national convention to be held in Los Angeles in September. Mrs. Hayes is an alternate.

Mrs Zant advised that all reservations for district and national dinners, luncheons, etc., to be held during the convention, should be made through the district president.

MOTORISTS TOUR ENTIRE COUNTRY

Mrs. Alta Anderson and son James, formerly of Daly City, but now residents of Bayshore City, returned, recently, from a motor trip of the entire United States.

Accompanying them on their trip was Max Landuyt of San Francisco. While in the east they visited New York City and made an extensive tour of the New England states.

They also visited Washington, D. C., including a trip to the White House and various points of interest in that city.

An interesting experience on the return trip was a visit and tour of the Cascade Caves at Grayson, Kentucky.

Mrs. Margaret Willard, with whom they visited in Lyndhurst, New Jersey, returned with them for a month stay.

STATE TEACHERS BACKING DEXTER FOR HIGH OFFICE

Public Schools Week Chairman Lauds State Superintendent Of Public Instruction

An appeal to retain Dr. Walter F. Dexter as State Superintendent of Public Instruction has been issued by Charles Albert Adams, former member of the State Board of Education and for seventeen years state chairman for the annual observance of public schools week.

In his statement Adams said:

"Walter F. Dexter, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, former school teacher and for ten years president of Whittier College, is a candidate to succeed himself as state superintendent.

"Dr. Dexter, one of the West's educational leaders, has been ably filling this office for the past two years. His broad interest in public affairs, aside from the educational field, was recognized when he was elected president of Lions International at their recent world convention in Oakland.

"The State Superintendent of Public Instruction is a non-partisan office, in which politics has no place. Teachers, administrators, parents and the public generally expect sound, constructive and experienced educational leadership in their state superintendent. Dr. Dexter, during his incumbency, has demonstrated these qualities to a high degree.

"More in these disturbed times than ever before the preservation of democracy depends upon the kind of education which the state makes available through its schools. The welfare of the schools demands trained leadership.

"The election of Walter F. Dexter will guarantee a continuance of California's high educational standards."

Seawell Support Gaining Strength

Senator Jerrold L. Seawell of Roseville, candidate for lieutenant governor at the August 30 primary, whose name appears on the Republican, Democratic and Progressive Ballot, must secure the Republican nomination to qualify him for the November General Election—owing to the fact there is such a large number of candidates for the office of lieutenant governor, Senator Seawell urges you and all other Californians to check with your local Assemblyman and Senator, to determine which candidate is the best qualified by experience and ability to preside over the Senate of California and fulfill the duties of lieutenant governor during the next four years, when an unprecedented number of vital issues must be decided.

Born in California, educated in our public schools, Senator Seawell is thoroughly conversant with our educational problems. His legislative record to improve the state's public school system is outstanding. He served as a member of the Board of Education before becoming a member of the State Assembly and Senate and has always championed the right of every child to receive a thorough education under competent supervision.

He has sponsored and supported at all times, legislation designed to aid the working man and woman of California, and the right of every individual to be gainfully employed without having to pay tribute to subversive influences that are designed to destroy the American principle of fair deal between employe and employer. Senator Seawell is determined that Communism shall not obtain a foothold in California government.

Bayshore Highway Scene of Accident

A near tragedy was the culmination of last Sunday's outing for three Filipino janitors, when their automobile plunged off the Bayshore Highway, near Mills Field, early on that morning.

Pete Del Pilar, 747 Geary street, suffered a barin concussion and cuts and bruises about the face. He was the most seriously injured of the trio. His companions, Domingo Pablo, 1112 Market street, the driver of the car, and Benny Pajardo, 729 Fell street, all of San Francisco, escaped with cuts and bruises.

DO NOT FEEL TOO SECURE

Six months—3670 lives saved. That is the traffic record of the United States up to July 1 of this year. The managing director of the National Safety Council warns all workers for traffic safety against too much complacency over the improved record.

He says: "Safety men and women are only human. It is human nature to sort of relax when you are out in front. Not that we are out in front in this traffic accident situation. Far from it. But we are able to point with joy at the figures and say, 'The traffic deaths are coming down.' Hard work and sustained, intelligent attack on the traffic accident problem are bringing results. Luck enters it too, but all the luck in the world is not going to bring down those figures if we do not continue to wage a bitter, unceasing war on carelessness and recklessness, and the other factors that contribute to accidents."

September will be a heavy traffic month with two extra holiday week ends. In San Mateo County we have maintained splendid records during like periods of heavy travel. Engineering, traffic regulations and law enforcement are constantly improving. The driver must do his part and forbear taking the chance that may take a life.—San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission.

VETERANS ARE IN SUPPORT OF TOP SERGEANT

Former Buddies Endorse Candidacy Of Earl Warren For Attorney General

Earl Warren is daily gaining new support from war veterans, according to Al Boss, past commander of Three hundred sixty-third Infantry Post No. 408, American Legion, and for fifteen years a secretary California sector, Ninety-first Division.

"In the course of the past three weeks," continued Boss, "I have discussed Warren's candidacy with a large number of veterans and, almost to a man, every one voiced enthusiastic support of his candidacy.

"I have found veterans happy to unite their forces behind a man who in civil life exemplifies the ideals for which they fought. The veterans of all wars are proud to join in support of a candidate of Earl Warren's sterling qualities.

"Men who soldiered with Earl Warren in the three hundred sixty-third infantry are now volunteering their aid in behalf of his candidacy. He was top sergeant of his company, and when the private soldiers of a company give their approval to a top sergeant he has to be right.

"We feel that as attorney general, Earl Warren will conduct his office to the best interest of all people, that he will be thorough, humane and efficient, and that he will safeguard the rights and the interests of the men who fought for their country in the hour of need."

Too Soft Hearted For Bomb Vocation

Sheriff Lyle of San Jose received a 300 word signed confession, Tuesday of this week, from Lorenzo Cerruti, 50 year old Milpitas ranch worker, in which he related in complete detail his actions last week, both before and after his bombing of the Mountain View branch of the Bank of America.

In a portion of his confession, Cerruti tells how he kept a watch on the door of the bank, where he had placed the bomb, so he could "keep anyone from getting hurt" before it exploded.

AUSTRIA'S LOSS IS GAIN OF AMERICA

For the first time in America Max Reinhardt presented his production of Goethe's "Faust," Tuesday evening of this week, in Hollywood.

The distinguished musician abandoned his famed Salzburg festivals when Nazi troops marched into Austria.

ROCKAWAY BEACH PEDRO VALLEY

By C. H. T.

It is strange how mild the air can be, even very early in the morning, when a blanket of thick fog lies over this coast region, and there's not a gleam of sunshine. We had plenty of opportunity to test this observation for ourselves this week. It was a grand week for outdoor work and gardening. Flower lovers made the most of it.

The Clyde Garners have some splendid red dahlias in full bloom. People passing by, stop to admire them. These dahlias are uncommonly large and rich in color. The neighborhood misses "Gretchen," the Garners' big dog, who was always so friendly and appealing. The Garners have taken her to the city. Another local dog that has found a new home is "Ajax," formerly owned by the Bryants, and whom Wynn Riddock, by request, sent to the ranch of a friend further south. By this time "Ajax" has begun an entirely new life, which may — or may not — be agreeable to his doggish tastes. He gets all he wants to eat, has three hundred acres on which to disport himself, endures three baths every week (!) and sleeps on his master's bed at night —and probably takes his daily naps there, too. This departure leaves only two canines, Rowdy and Oats, to grace the Bryant home.

Hope is still expressed by the optimistic, that the steep Grande avenue hill road may yet be oiled before the winter rains begin. The Pedro Improvement Club is urging residents to activity in this important matter. There's a dance event in the offing. More about this later. Several dances have been given in the past, which attracted crowds of young people from the coast towns and from San Francisco and Daly City, providing funds for local civic needs, or at least making brave efforts in that direction. Good luck attend the next dance!

Mrs. Dunnigan of the Snug Harbor, Rockaway, achieved the distinction granted only to A number one horsewomen, when she rode "Lady" of the "H-H Ranch" last Sunday. "Lady" is something of what you might call a circus horse. She knows all the steps and gaits that any educated steed should command. She's the pet of the ranch. Mrs. Dunnigan declares that "It's like riding on a cloud!" The privilege of taking Lady out is a sort of "graduation" in horsemanship.

Fire Marshall George Olmo of Pedro expressed himself as being amazed at the careless neglect of local homeowners as to fire protection. At a recent fire, which consumed a cabin, search revealed that there was only one water outlet hose faucet, which was under the house and impossible to reach because of the hot fire. Lacking any way of checking the flames, he marshall and the other helpers were obliged to carry buckets of sea water from the incoming tide on the beach to dash on the two adjoining cabins in what looked like a hopeless attempt to save them from destruction. Several men, including Marshall Olmo, were drenched to the skin, and got home shivering with the beginning of bad colds. Marshall Olmo earnestly requests every home owner to install four or five hose faucets at a safe distance from the house, as a necessary precaution, and also to establish better fire insurance risks.

Announcement has been informally made of the engagement of handsome Miss Clara Casanova, Pedro Valley, to William Eddy of San Francisco. Mr. Eddy is the nephew of Mrs. Irene Rees. Miss Casanova contributed her musical talents to the orchestra at the Alexander Wilson luncheon party given two weeks ago at the Rees home.

A flutter of excitement came one day last week, when a mortician's "dead wagon" dashed up the steep Pedro road. Local residents rushed out to watch the wagon pass one home after another, finally stopping at the Strutz garage. Speculation buzzed, for the Strutzes have been in the city for some time past. The mystery deepened when a man, a woman and a couple of children alighted and walked into the house. It seems that the man was a mortician driving around on his day off, to look at weekend cabins. When the fact transpired, anxious observers heaved a sigh of relief and went back to their knitting.

Here is a purely personal observation: What odd perversity in human nature makes us hurl criticisms at something we have not taken the trouble to look into? The bitter attacks on "a new measure for a New Day the California Pension Plan (Life Retirement Payments) show that, in most cases, the proposed amendment has not been studied, or even read through. A wise saying is "He who does not know both sides, knows neither." Every year we hail new styles in hats, gowns, machinery, automobiles. These new things may be so vastly different from the old ones of yesterday, that we have to make a clean sweep, call up the junkman, and accept the new modes. But just try to bring old laws, old customs, old political methods up to date, introducing better ones, and just listen to the howls of protest! The cotton gin machinery, innovation of generations ago, aroused immense indignation because it upset the accepted routine, and put hosts of cotton spinners out of work. The abolition of slavery was bitterly fought because it disarranged the lives and business affairs of wealthy classes south of the Mason-Dixon line. Every innovation upsets somebody's affairs, and even makes some lose certain time-honored privileges and advantages. Then just watch this "somebody" shouting to the dear peepul that they are the ones the innovation will crush. (And not a word about his own interests. How unselfish!)

Salmon Unwilling Victims This Year

The Eureka Federated Trades Council, this week, indorsed the request of local fishermen that the salmon season be extended this year to October 30.

Friends, Yes; Romance, No Go

Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow, passing through Vienna, recently, on his way to a partridge shooting trip in Hungary, brought forth a telegram from his estranged wife, the former Barbara Hutton. It was signed "much love," Barbara. The count sadly explained it merely meant they were still good friends.

There was "no intention on either side" of trying to patch up their wrecked romance and he and his wife were taking "all steps" to obtain a divorce.

So if you can, please come to the 101 Club, Brisbane, on the night of September 1, at 8 o'clock.

Those who made it possible to raise more money for the Cubs baseball team are Mrs. Branderburger, Mrs. McMillan, Mrs. Mable Gull, Mrs. Allemand and Mrs. Mary Richards. These good women folks worked very hard on this quilt, also on the sale of tickets.

The Cubs send their vote of thanks to the one who made this quilt, also to all the people of Brisbane, and elsewhere who helped them in any way.

will eventually turn out to be only before election propaganda, so there is really nothing to get excited about.

Why all this "hullabaloo" at this particular time (just a few days before election) we are at a loss to understand. Unless, perhaps, it might be that the "powers that be" think that method will perpetuate their candidate in office and add to the votes he may get—and in that way seek to defeat a really competent man who is seeking the important office of county executive via the elective route—thus giving the PEOPLE, themselves, the opportunity to express their opinions at the ballot box.

No doubt the "discoveries" will be added to day by day until after next Tuesday's election and will then suddenly cease and expire from ennui.

Four weeks ago it was predicted by a member of the Board of Supervisors that the county tax rate would be raised from last year's figure of $1.14½, and that this year's levy would reach $1.22½.

ALCAZAR WILL SHOW NEW PLAY COMING WEEK

Sidney Howard, brilliant playwright, was impressed with a few beautiful lines he found in Keats "Ode To A Nightingale" and as a result the powerful drama "Alien Corn," which opened at the Alcazar in San Francisco, Monday night, was written.

"Through the sad heart of Ruth, when, sick for home, she stood in tears amid the alien corn."

Mr. Howard has placed his Ruth as a teacher of music in a girls college in a mid-western state. She, with her father, are in a strange land longing to be back in her home to follow up a career in music, but are exiled by war. The personnel of the immediate group in which she finds herself is the faculty of the school. Love lets fly a dart that involves the affairs of Elsa, a professor and the president of the college. Torn between a decision regarding marriage or career, drama steps in and the outcome is as stirring and exciting a situation as can be packed into a stage play.

"Alien Corn" closes Friday night, September 2 to make way for the Dramatists Guild-Federal Theaters prize winning play "See How They Run," by Dr. George Milton Savage of the University of Washington.

SUGGESTIONS TO HIGH STUDENTS

The problem of the high school graduate, faced with difficulties in continuing his education, is discussed in a pamphlet sent by the University of Wisconsin extension division to the 28,000 Wisconsin youths who finished high school this spring. Suggestions are made whereby college credit subjects may be taken at home in advance of college entrance, or courses of a vocational type completed through home study.

"One of the opportunities open to the high school graduate," it is pointed out, "is the privilege of continuing his education at home, under the direction of a University instructor. Such a privilege is the immediate solution of the problem of the student who is unable to go away to school."

Freshman English, required of college freshmen everywhere, is referred to as a typical subject that may be completed at home before entrance in college or university. A full semester's program of freshman work also is outlined for correspondence study. Subjects making up such a program, in addition to English, include mathemaitcs, science, history and drawing.

Foreign language requirements also can be partially satisfied through extension work. Extension courses provide instruction in French, German, Greek, Italian, Latin, Norwegian, and Spanish.

The extension publication lists many courses that may be taken for business and technical training without degree credit in view. Among these are two courses in business correspondence, recently revised. The purpose of these is to provide training in writing effective business letters.

Rothschild Bride Sues Mother In Law

Mrs. Dorothy Urdang Rothschild, 18, who recently pressed a legal action in Los Angeles against her mother in law, Mrs. Mildred Rothschild, alleging that "by subtle contrivances" she broke up her marriage to Richard Moritz Rothschild, 24, an heir of the famous banking family. The elder Mrs. Rothschild was accused of threatening to disinherit her son and of making slanderous references to her son's wife, according to the complaint. The younger woman is seeking $50,000 heart balm.

BRISBANE IN TIE GAME WITH THE MANTLE CLUB

They laughed when Brisbane took the field to play ball, but three hours later it was a different story. Two thousand fans jammed the Harrison street ball park and just couldn't see how Brisbane could possibly do anything with the strong Class A team of the Mantle Club. Brisbane had only seventeen games under their belt, while the Mantle Club had cleaned up practically everything in the Bay area and had played against stronger opposition.

The same fans shook their heads in pity when the Mantle Club gang scored two runs to take the lead early in the game. A few of the fans were so sure of Brisbane's defeat that they started for the exit. So, to make the game interesting, the Brisbane lads reached for a chaw of "terbaccy" and buckled on their spurs, then proceeded to score three runs, to make the score 3 to 2 in Brisbane's favor.

For two or three innings both teams hammered at each other until the Mantle Club shoved across four runs to make the score 6 to 3. It looked bad at that phase of the game for Brisbane. Lou Pierri walked up and down the bench cheering the lads, urging them on. Several of the boys just sat on the bench almost crying.

Then came the beginning of the ninth inning. When the smoke had cleared off Brisbane had tied the score, 6 to 6.

The umpire called the managers together and, upon agreement, allowed the game to go until the tenth inning. Darkness prevented further playing.

BALL PARK CHATTER

To the following players goes a word of commendation: Bill Strassburger, for his splendid pitching; George Radoff, for marveous fly chasing; Wes MacIntosh, his timely punch at the plate was terrific; Jack Haran, for his fielding and hitting; Elmo Arthurs, for spectacular fielding, base running and hitting; Lou Pierri, for his coolness under fire and great signal calling; Jack Corrigan, for Irish fight and spirit; Woodie Dotherow, for his unfailing sportsmanship; Howard Homan, for his snagging the last fly ball to end the game and Roy Edwards, for his vain effort to hit a homer in the ninth.
